ABOUT ME

Acting has been a drive of mine from a young age, and I'm drawn to portraying grounded, authentic characters with honesty and depth. I enjoy exploring diverse roles across film and television, always approaching each performance with a commitment to continual growth. While I'm often cast in tougher, more intense roles, I've enjoyed branching into comedy, most recently playing a comedic supporting character for Salaam Studio, showcasing my versatility.

Outside of acting, I've been writing poetry since the age of 15. Expressing emotion through storytelling and rhyme has strengthened my appreciation for authentic dialogue and character. I also have a passion for dancing, particularly breakdancing, which has helped develop my creativity, rhythm and physical expression both on and off screen.
